TELEGRAM FROM TELLER.

A delegate from Colorado moved the hanks of the convention be given Mass Pierce for her recitation of the charter American liberty, and it was adopted a rising vote and more cheering. It was finally agreed that the State delegations should hand the names of the different members of the committees to the secretary. While the lists were being repared Chairman Newlands read the owing telegram from Senator Teller; I. N. Stevens, St. Louis

The money question overstadows all her questions. On its rightful determmanion depends the prosperity of the people and the perpetuity of republican institutions. All other questions must be subordinate to it. A vote for Bryan and Sewall's a vote for industrial and financial dependence of the American people rom fereign domination and control, and they should have the support of all oppenents of the gold standard."

The sentiments contained in the telegrain were regardesty applicated, A delegate from Pennsylvania read the following letter from ex-Congressman J. Sibler, dated Franklin, Pa., July 20; "I find it impossible to get to St. Louis

I hope success will attend the efforts of the friends to have only one ticket. Let the issue be squarely joined and the verdict of the people recorded."

the men on whose shoulders the responsibility rested were able to meet the crises with wisdom and patriotism, (Cheers) And to solve it to the betterment of furhadadopted platforms, and had put forward their leaders, and now another great political party, young but a growing giant in strength, had assembled to speak to the American people in this critical and important hour. (Cheers.)

The Populists were here because there was need of them to be here. The parties
